Scopus
Universal Journal of Agricultural Research (ISSN: 2332-2284) is indexed by Scopus and articles published in the journal will be covered by Scopus. SCOPUS is Elsevier's abstract and citation database, which is the world's largest abstract and citation database of peer-reviewed literature, scientific journals, books and conference proceedings. It covers research topics across all scientific and technical disciplines, ranging from medicine and social sciences to arts and humanities.

CABI full text
CABI full text works perfectly with CABI Abstracts and Global Health, providing hard to find material from across agriculture, health and the life sciences. It is indexed in other databases which also serve as access points, consisting of Web of Knowledge, CAS Direct, CabiWeb, Dialog, Dimex, and EBSCOhost. It is one of the world’s three largest bibliographic databases in agriculture and life sciences.

NSD - Norwegian Centre for Research Data
NSD is one of the largest archives for research data of its kind and provides data to researchers and students in Norway and abroad. Additionally, NSD is a resource centre which assists researchers with regard to data gathering, data analysis, and issues of methodology, privacy and research ethics.

Chemical Abstracts Service
CAS, a division of the American Chemical Society, is the most authoritative and comprehensive source for chemical information. CAS databases, including CAS

Anthony Robinson <revision.hrpub@gmail.com>

Dear Lukman Effendi,

Thank you for your interest in publishing your work in HRPUE.

Your manuscript has now been peer reviewed and the comments are accessible in Word format. Peer review reports are also downloadable in Online Manuscript Tracking System (http://www.hrpue.org/submission/submit.php).

We would be grateful if you could address the comments of the reviewers in a revised manuscript and answer all questions raised by reviewers in a cover letter. Any revisions should be made on the attached manuscript.

In addition to responsive revisions, please ensure that the similarity index of the revised version should be lower than 10% and similar to from a database.
